

COUNTY CONVENTION HELD IN KING WILLIAM

Members of Interdenominational Sunday School Get Together in Interesting Session.

MEET NEXT AT COURTHOUSE

Many Visitors Are Coming to West Point for Hot Summer Months, Where Varied Entertainment Is Offered—Yacht "Inez" Launched.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] WEST POINT, VA., July 17.—The county convention of the Interdenominational Sunday School met on Wednesday with Hebrew Baptist Church in upper King William County. A very interesting session was held and, although West Point Methodist Church tendered the convention an invitation to meet here next July, the convention will go to King William Courthouse.

Visitors are coming into town from distant cities and enjoying the water breezes, rowing, launch parties, fishing and crabbing and bathing, and in the evening, dancing and moving pictures and occasionally enjoying a game of cards on the porches or chatting in the shade, while the sewing bag is much in evidence and fingers are kept busy. Since the Fourth, people generally have settled down, and life has been rather hum-drum. Those having automobiles and their favored friends enjoy the evenings more than any one else.

The Misses Price, of New York, are visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Ware.

Mr. Cynthia Rhodes, of Bryant, Va., is a guest at the Baptist parsonage of Rev. E. W. Billings and wife.

Miss Cornelia Spencer, of Richmond, is spending some time with her sister, Mrs. Emma Roy Spencer.

Mr. Myrtle and Sussie Carr are visiting Miss Nancy Jennings, of Culpeper.

Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Ateyah and baby, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are spending some time with her mother, Mrs. Ashland, Va., after spending ten days with relatives, Captain and Mrs. George Carlton, have returned to their home.

Mr. George W. Richardson entertained on Wednesday at lunch in honor of Miss Annie W. Williams, of Baltimore, who is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Richmond Blair.

The Southern Railway Company, on Wednesday, gave the use of its piers, which is now working at the terminals here, to the promoters of the West Point-Manhattan Bridge across the Pamunkey River for the purpose of driving a line of test piling to enable the engineers to estimate the cost of the new bridge.

Mr. R. C. Carden and B. C. Carden, Jr., who have been visiting in City for several weeks, returned home on Wednesday.

The yacht "Inez," owned and built by A. J. Watson and P. B. Shelton, was launched on Saturday evening. Little Inez Walcott broke the bottle of champagne over the bow, and the yacht glided smoothly into the Mattaponi River.

Captain Garrett Post and wife, Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Bennett and Rev. S. E. Lucas were among those from this section who attended the Anti-Saloon League convention in Atlantic City last week.

At a regular meeting of Chelsea Lodge, No. 55, Knights of Pythias, officers were elected. District Lecturer J. L. Patterson and Past Chancellor John D. Murrell, of Richmond, were present and participated in the exercises. A talk was also made by J. L. Lewis.

Superintendent Arthur, of the Southern Railway, was in West Point on Wednesday morning examining the site for the new furniture factory and making arrangements for putting in a siding, which will be 530 feet long. Mr. Henry L. Cole returned this morning from a several days' trip to Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fox Brooks have been recent visitors to relatives in town, from Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Williams, of Richmond, is visiting Mrs. Joseph Wilkinson, her sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roberts, of Savannah, Ga., are guests of Mrs. Roberts' mother, Mrs. Jane Wilkinson.

Dr. Ogden, wife and children, of New York, and Mrs. Johnson, of Rappahannock County, are guests of Dr. and Mrs. B. B. Bagby. They came in their automobile. Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Ogden are the mother and sister of Mrs. B. B. Bagby.

Dr. Alfred Bagby, after a ten day visit to his granddaughters, Mrs. B. M. Nance and Mrs. M. P. Chandler, left on Sunday for his home in Richmond, from which place, after visiting as many Baptist associations as are in his reach, he will spend some time at Brunswick Inn, Waynesboro, Va.

Miss Alice Rogers, of New Jersey, is a visitor in town.

Mrs. Charles Nance, of Charles City County, is the guest of her son, B. M. Nance.

ARVONIA

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] ARVONIA, VA., July 17.—Mrs. Charles W. Keel and Mrs. William A. Le Sueur left on Tuesday to spend some time at Virginia Beach and Ocean View.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stanley Jeffrey returned here this week after having spent a week or ten days in New York and other northern cities.

Dr. Perkins Glover was called to Manter on Wednesday to be with his brother, Dr. Samuel Glover, who is ill with typhoid fever.

Mrs. T. E. Williams and Miss Cassie DuVal motored to Charlottesville on Saturday, returning the same day.

A. L. Pitts, Jr., of Scottsville, spent the week-end at his old home, "Belle Vue."

Dr. Lester Hudgens, of Farmville, is visiting at the home of his father, Robert Hudgens, near Mt. Zion.

Miss Irene E. Briggs, of Scottsville, is the guest of friends and relatives here this week.

IS MODERN EDUCATION MADE TOO PRACTICAL? FREQUENT COMPLAINT

The society of which they are members. The rendering of public service and preparation for rendering such service must be regarded as included among modern educational ideals.

The educational ideals of the present day are then very comprehensive in their scope. They include the disciplinary training of the young along general lines, the transmission of that particular knowledge of the past which will do most to develop persons to culture, the application of scientific methods to the conduct of the ordinary affairs of life, the increase of our knowledge through research and investigation and the rendering of public service. None of these ideals is to be despised as unworthy of pursuit by men of learning. None, perhaps, may be selected as more worthy of pursuit than the rest. No institution which devotes itself sincerely and honestly to the pursuit of any of them may be regarded as unworthy the name of an institution of learning.

UNLIMITED RESOURCE MUST BE AVAILABLE

But the very comprehensiveness of these ideals makes it improbable that many institutions will be able to pursue them all with the same vigor. Almost unlimited resources must be available in order that any one institution may be in such a position. Geographical situation may further make it desirable that certain of these ideals be emphasized at the expense of others. Universities situated at or near government centers may thus be able to render more effective public service than others less favorably situated. Urban universities may have better opportunities to do the work necessary to prepare for the professions than those situated in the country. The ideals which each university should set before itself must thus be determined by its peculiar situation. But those which it adopts it should pursue with all its might. Its purpose should be excellence rather than comprehensiveness, quality rather than quantity. It should expand only so far as expansion will enable it to discharge its main function and to pursue its principal ideals, or so far as the local needs incident to its geographical situation make such expansion necessary.

It is only when such an attitude has been assumed that it will be possible to eliminate an unhealthy and unwise competition between universities, all of which belong to the same brotherhood, all of which are pursuing the same general ends, and all of which finally should co-operate in the great work of making the world in which we live a better, a happier and a more inspiring place for human beings to inhabit.

LAWRENCEVILLE

LAWRENCEVILLE, VA., July 17.—A delightful reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Turnbull on Wednesday evening, immediately following the marriage of their daughter, Evelyn, to James Gillette, which took place in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church at half-past 8 o'clock.

The rooms were beautifully decorated in ferns and pink roses, and

TO-DAY'S BEAUTY SUGGESTIONS

Face powder simply covers up an unattractive complexion and leaves no lasting benefits. Those who have tried a simple surmah face lotion find it much better, as it removes skin discolorations, such as freckles and tan, and makes the skin smooth, white and velvety. This lotion is made by dissolving four ounces of surmah in one-half pint hot water, then adding two teaspoonfuls glycerine. This complexion beautifier does not rub off or show like powder, and gives a more refined appearance. It removes both shininess and sallowness, rapidly giving the skin a permanent healthy, youthful appearance.

An especially fine shampoo for this weather can be had at trifling expense by dissolving a teaspoonful of catnip in a cup of hot water. Pour slowly on scalp and massage coolingly. This creates a soothing, cooling rather than dissolves and removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt. Filtering leaves the scalp spotless, clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on a glossy richness of natural color, also a firmness which makes it seem very much heavier than it is. After a catnip shampoo arranging the hair is a pleasure.

the porch lighted by pink Japanese lanterns. A large number of guests passed in and out, paying their respects to the bride and groom and wedding party. The bride's cake was cut and the ring fell to the lot of Amos Gillette, brother of the groom. Miss Helen Massie cut the button, Miss Kate Gillette the wish-bone, and Harry Ballo the money. The bride threw her bouquet from the stair steps to her attendants, and it was caught by her maid of honor, Miss Gertrude Turnbull.

There were a number of entertainments given in honor of Miss Turnbull. On Tuesday evening Miss Lizzie Turnbull entertained with a supper party at her home, Harmony Grove. Besides the bridal party, which was composed of Miss Evelyn Turnbull, Miss Gertrude Turnbull, Misses Lizzie and Patsy Prince Turnbull, Julia May Paulette, Kate Gillette, Helen Massie, Maude Purdy, Maggie Lee Upchurch and Selma Batten and Messrs. WAYNESBORO

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

WAYNESBORO, VA., July 17.—As the season rapidly approaches its height, many persons continue to take their places among those already enjoying the summer vacation at the Brunswick Inn. Many guests of former years have returned to the inn, and these, together with numerous new additions, make a very pleasant gathering at this resort.

The "good-roads" movement has secured for Waynesboro and the vicinity splendid macadam roads from every approach, and automobile tourists are constantly taking advantage of them with the Brunswick as a stop-over point.

Swimming, rowing, tennis and croquet have many devotees, who find these outdoor sports invigorating during these splendid days.

Dancing in the ballroom, bridge parties and trips to the "movies" for the most part fill the evening hours.

Recent arrivals are Miss Lena Gregory, Richmond; E. H. Hoffman, Baltimore; Dr. Carrington Williams, New York; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cornell, Roanoke; Mrs. J. G. McCormick, Wilmington, N.
